ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

The development of accuracy and automaticity through the mastery of foundational skills is a crucial aspect of literacy instruction—research shows that this is a catalyst that allows students to flourish as readers and writers.

This live, virtual Symposium will explore best practices in K–12 foundational skills instruction through the lens of the SIPPS (Systematic Instruction in Phonological Awareness, Phonics, and Sight Words) curriculum.

KEYNOTE

“Enacting the Science of Reading: From Systems to Classroom Practice—A Roundtable Discussion” with Linda Diamond, Dr. Tracy Weeden, and Dr. Rebecca Tolson

Linda Diamond
co-author of the Teaching Reading Sourcebook and Assessing Reading: Multiple Measures

Dr. Tracy Weeden
President and CEO,
Neuhaus Education
Center

Dr. Rebecca Tolson
Vice President of Literacy Initiatives,
Neuhaus Education
Center

LEARNING TRACKS

Track 1 (Informational Webinars): SIPPS Informational Roundtables, Grades K–3 and 4–12: Conversations with Teachers and Leaders

Track 2 (Interactive Professional Learning): Getting Started with the SIPPS Program

Track 3 (Interactive Professional Learning): Going Deeper with the SIPPS Program: Experience a Lesson

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

The Symposium welcomes all K–12 educators, coaches, and leaders who are interested in exploring best practices in foundational skills instruction through the lens of SIPPS (Systematic Instruction in Phonological Awareness, Phonics, and Sight Words).

- Track 1 is informational. It is designed for K–12 teachers and leaders who do not use the SIPPS program and wish to learn about it.
- Track 2 is professional learning for teachers, interventionists, Title 1 teachers, and coaches who have been teaching SIPPS for less than 6 months.
- Track 3 is professional learning for teachers, interventionists, Title 1 teachers, and coaches who have been implementing SIPPS materials for 6 months or longer and wish to go deeper with their instruction.
